

Did You Miss Us?

We were offline for almost a week due to a clerical error made by domain dot com, with whom our domain is registered. It took many hours of consultation (?) with their representatives before they figured out 1) where the error was, 2) what domain we actually own, 3) how to enable us to log in to our own domain, and 4) how to connect our domain with our web content. Exhausting!