

Meeting for Worship with Attention to Business
Asheville Friends Meeting

Second Month 14 , 2016

Meeting began with a period of silent worship from which co-clerk, Gail Hipkins, read the following:

Sense of the meeting is a gift. It came to the Quakers through their commitment to continuing revelation. They discovered that the Light which had come to teach the people could lead them to revealed corporate decisions. The Quakers cherished the gift. They handed it down as a spiritual heirloom from generation to generation, even as the Jews hand down their covenant with God. . . . When we seek the sense of the meeting we allow ourselves to be directed to the solution that awaits us. It is a process of surrender to our highest natures and a recognition that, even though each of us is possessed of light, there is only one Light. At the end of the process we reside in that Light. We have allowed ourselves to be led to a transcendent place of unmistakable harmony, peace, and tender love. . . . Commitment to the work and commitment to each other are natural by-products of the sense of the meeting. When we allow ourselves to be led to and gathered by the peace of Light and Love where unity rests in silence, bonds are forged which extend infinitely.

Treasurer's Report-Alan Robinson

In a review of the 2015 budget, income and expenses, the meeting has a surplus of about $2,606.72, although there may be some loose ends to deal with as we close out the year.

This past month is the only one in 2016 to report: $1,873.17 income. The report in full will be available on the website.

We thank Alan for taking on the responsibility of the treasurer's job.

Budget-Alan Robinson

Restricted income will cover the approved work on maintenance of the meetinghouse.

Minute #2 The budget was approved as prepared.

Other

Paul's Letter-from Care and Nurture Committee

If any member of the meeting hears of severe need such as suicidal tendencies, we can all be supportive in terms of visitation or listening. Counseling, however, needs to be handled by a professional. Paul Hibschan has a license as a clinician and social worker and requests a letter to identify him as representing the meeting at the local hospital. The clerk read the draft letter for those in hospital training that would allow him to serve Quakers in need of hospital care through both visitation and counseling.

Minute #3 Friends approved the clerk send a letter to Mission Hospital recognizing him as a representative of the meeting for training in visitation and counseling.

SAYMA Planning and Call for Workshops

Asheville and Atlanta meetings are asked to come up with a plenary activity for Friday evening. A timeline has been set for this plan and the workshop proposal: due date of tomorrow, February 15th. One week of preparation does not seem adequate to the Racial Justice Committee. However, some proposed plans are being discussed. Because we had no representation at the September Representative Meeting, our meeting has not been kept abreast of the developing plans for yearly meeting 2016. One Friend suggested that we communicate with the planning committee regarding this request explaining our having been in the dark about the theme and our involvement. Our meeting representative agreed to talk with Hank Fay regarding our feeling of not being prepared for the input requested by Feb. 15. Racial Justice Committee will be informed of the result of that conversation, and the committee will meet tonight. Regarding workshops, our clerk received the workshop request a month ago. Friends are asked to submit proposed workshops by tomorrow, February 15, 2016.

Announcements

Clerking Workshop-Mary Ann Downey is offering a Clerking workshop on Saturday April 16 from 10 am to 4 pm. Cost is $35/person. Pre-registration is required. The clerk encouraged Friends to consider the training, whether or not they envision themselves as presiding clerks.

Census-Margaret Farmer will assist Alan Robinson in preparation of the SAYMA census by the end of February.

State of the Meeting Report-Clerk, Gail Hipkins, requests that each committee send a delegate to meet on Saturday, 20 of February from 10-12 am. The following queries will guide our discussion to help formulate the report:

What challenges have arisen this year, how have we as a group met them, and how has that changed us?

How has the meeting lived the testimonies this year?

What have been your disappointments?

What have been your joys?
